

THE MAYA AND THE WORLD
Interdisciplinary Inquiry in the Liberal Arts
Louisiana Tech University and Lincoln Parish Library

Lecture Series

Robert M. Carmack

Professor Emeritus of Anthropology, State University of New York at Albany

“Conducting Anthropological Research in a K’iche’-Mayan Community of Guatemala”

Thurs., Oct. 8, 2009, 6:30 p.m., Lincoln Parish Library

“Maya Historiography: The K’iche’-Maya Case of Guatemala”

Fri., Oct. 9, 2009, 11:00 a.m., Wyly Tower Auditorium, Louisiana Tech

Thomas H. Guderjan

Assistant Professor of Anthropology, University of Texas at Tyler; President, Maya Research Program, Forth Worth, Tex.

“The End of the World as They Knew It! What We Really Know and Don’t Know About the Collapse of the Ancient Maya Civilization”

Thurs., Oct. 15, 2009, 6:30 p.m., Lincoln Parish Library

“Understanding the Ancient Past at Blue Creek, Belize”

Fri., Oct. 16, 2009, 9:30 a.m., Wyly Tower Auditorium, Louisiana Tech

Grace Lloyd Bascopé

Project Director, Maya Research Program, Fort Worth, Tex.

“Contemporary Recycling: Uses of Ancient Tools by Modern Maya”

Thurs., Oct. 22, 2009, 6:30 p.m., Lincoln Parish Library

“Threads of the Past Enrich the Present: The Maya Then and Now”

Fri., Oct. 23, 2009, 9:30 a.m., Wyly Tower Auditorium, Louisiana Tech

Monica Bontty

Assistant Professor of History, University of Louisiana at Monroe

“The Notion of Time in Egyptian and Mayan Society”

Thurs., Oct. 29, 2009, 10:00 a.m., Wyly Tower Auditorium, Louisiana Tech

“Years Mayan and Hours: The Concept of Time in Ancient Maya and Egyptian Societies”

Thurs., Oct. 29, 2009, 6:30 p.m., Lincoln Parish Library

W. George Lovell

Professor of Geography, Queen’s University, Kingston, Ontario

“At Peace in the Corn: A Story of Civil War and its Aftermath in Guatemala”

Thurs., Nov. 5, 2009, 6:30 p.m., Lincoln Parish Library

“Surviving Conquest: Geography, Colonialism, and Maya Peoples in Guatemala”

Fri., Nov. 6, 2009, 11:00 a.m., Wyly Tower Auditorium, Louisiana Tech

Louisiana Tech University, with major funding through the Louisiana Board of Regents Support Fund, with additional funding through the College of Liberal Arts, the Department of History, the School of Literature and Language, and the Department of Social Sciences. Grateful acknowledgment is made to the Lincoln Parish Library for its generous organizational and material support.